

Woody Anderson, BA

Academic Support Mentor

Woody Anderson is the Academics Coordinator at Summit to Summit Bridge. His role is to facilitate an academic vision for each student by equipping them with the necessary skills to lead an autonomous and self-sufficient life.

Before working at Summit to Summit, Woody attended the University of West Georgia and obtained a Bachelor's in Philosophy with an emphasis in Religion. Upon graduation, he held an assortment of jobs ranging from an import furniture manager to an account specialist with a credit firm.

Due to his father's occupation in the Marines, Woody spent a large portion of his childhood in different parts of the US. His background in travel influenced his decision to continue novelty seeking by visiting & living in different locations.

He spent three years teaching English in South Korea to a wide age range of students. Between teaching contracts, he traveled independently throughout Central America studying Spanish and gaining insight about the important need for individuals to expose themselves to new environments.
